09.15-10.00 - THOUGHTS ON SUSTAINABLE CORPORATE TRANSFORMATIONS AND THE ROLE OF PROCUREMENTS AND SUPPLY CHAIN

In a poly-crisis world where the global agenda can change radically and often – companies need to carefully assess their risks and sometimes take leaps of faith to ensure their future relevance towards their customers, partners, supplier networks and stakeholders in general.

Procurement, supply chain and sustainability have a key role in doing this right – and only if they work closely together will the company be well positioned to drive the right agenda.

Henrik will explore this in his keynote, with experiences from Maersk and his current roles in The Conference Board and Sustainable Procurement Pledge

Advisor, Board Member, Investor & Former SPV & CPO Henrik Larsen

10.00-10.10 - COFFEE BREAK

10.10-10.55 - OPTIMIZING SUPPLY CHAIN AND PROCUREMENT: IMPLEMENTING CSDDD FOR ENHANCED DATA COLLECTION AND MANAGEMENT

With increasing stakeholder expectations and regulatory requirements, companies are facing mounting pressure to identify, mitigate and prevent environmental and human rights adverse impacts in their supply chains and external supplier base. What role could the procurement and supply chain functions potentially take to help tackle this, and what kind of capabilities would be needed? Could this increased area of responsibility possibly contribute to expanding the traditional value propositions of the procurement and supply chain functions..?
